

No lawsuit needed. You only need to show prospective renters this story. The 'investigators' invented the definition of haunting to conveniently fit the logic of excited Ghost Hunting fans. Obviously, the house is NOT haunted and the landlord should take the stories with a grain of salt.